TIGERTOWN

This base on the outskirts of Lakeland, Fla., becomes more important than ever for the Tigers in 1963.

For the first time, all spring training offices will be maintained at Tigertown, with General Manager James A. Campbell in charge. Another building has been added to the Tigers' collection at the one-time airport and training base to accommodate executives and officials of the entire Tiger organization as well as the managers, scouts and players of the minor league system who have been using Tigertown.

In operation since 1953 as a training base for Tiger farm clubs, Tigertown is looked upon as a model for developing and conditioning players. There are accommodations for more than 200 in the dormitories. Meals prepared by Mal Murdock, Tiger Stadium press room chef, are served in the spacious cafeteria.

Game rooms, expanded since removal of minor league offices, and a snack bar are attached to the cafeteria.

Four playing fields enable eight full squads to engage in fundamental and competitive activity simultaneously under observation from a central tower. The diamonds bear the names of Detroit's greatest, Ty Cobb, Mickey Cochrane, Charley Gehringer and Harry Heilmann.

A converted airplane hangar which is the only enclosed field house in a baseball training camp permits the minor leaguers and Tigers to work out indoors when the weather is bad.

Extra facilities for player development include a line of pitching mounds, a special practice infield, and a "trap wall" for specialized training of infielders, along with batting cages.

Transportation service is provided on a daily schedule to downtown Lakeland for shopping and after-hour pleasure and to church services.

TIGER FARMS AT TOP

The Tigers' farm system was the biggest winner of all in 1962.

Six minor league clubs operated by the Detroit organization posted a composite record of 432 victories and 337 losses—95 games over the .500 mark.

The nearest farm system in the final consolidated standings was that of the Chicago White Sox, whose 5½ teams had a 399-343 record, 56 games over the break-even point.

Two of the six Tiger affiliates won pennants, Jamestown in the New York-Pennsylvania League and Thomasville in the Georgia-Florida League. Knoxville of the South Atlantic League and Duluth of the Northern League finished second, Denver of the American Association third, and Montgomery of the Alabama-Florida League sixth.

At the close of the 1961 season the Tigers placed a team in the Florida Winter Instructional League for the first time and won the championship. Last fall the league expanded to 10 teams and the Tigers finished second, only a game out of first place.

Tiger farmhands distinguished themselves in all departments during 1962. Two pitchers, Dick Egan, southpaw on loan to Hawaii, and Leo Marentette, Knoxville right hander, chalked up more than 200 strikeouts to lead their respective leagues, the Pacific Coast and the Sally. Egan had 201 and Marentette 205 strikeouts.

Jesse Queen led the American Association in runs scored with 98 and Gates Brown, his Denver outfield mate, topped the league in triples with 14.

Chico Salmon, Knoxville outfielder, was the speed king of the Sally League with 25 stolen bases. Another young outfielder, Jim Northrup of Duluth, was nosed out for the Northern League batting championship by a point and tied for the lead in triples with nine.

Ken Schultz, Thomasville third baseman, won the Georgia-Florida League batting title, George Campbell was the RBI leader, and Charles Haygood the leading pitcher.

Berto Mena, Jamestown shortstop, had 154 hits, high for the New York-Penn. Dick DeLong, Montgomery outfielder, led the Alabama-Florida in doubles and Mike Holodick was first in runs scored.

Outstanding in the Florida League during the fall were Willie Smith, who led all pitchers with an 11-1 record and a 1.57 ERA, and Catcher John Sullivan, who finished fourth among the hitters at .337.

TIGER STADIUM

Recent alterations, notably in the box seats areas, have brought the capacity of Tiger Stadium to 53,089 seats.

Official figures at the start of the 1963 season list 9,377 box seats; 22,210 reserved; 11,502 unreserved grandstand; and 10,000 bleacher seats.

Baseball has been played at the site since 1900, a year before the American League was born with the Tigers as a charter member. Known as Bennett Park at the time, it became Navin Field in 1912, Briggs Stadium in 1938 and Tiger Stadium Jan. 1, 1961.

The playing field and stands at Tiger Stadium are considered among the finest in baseball. Facilities for players, fans, press, television and radio personnel are excellent and improved whenever possible. Although occupied frequently by more than 50,000 fans, it can be emptied in less than 10 minutes.

More than 10,000 square yards of sod are needed annually to repair the wear and tear of both baseball and football on the playing area. Sprinkling and drainage facilities are among the best and the latest-type field cover can be placed in less than a minute.

FETZER 10TH TIGER PRESIDENT

John E. Fetzer, sole owner of the Tigers since Nov. 14, 1961, is the 10th in line to hold the position of club president. The nationally-prominent television-radio executive, with holdings in Michigan and Nebraska, has taken an increasingly-active role in baseball administration since entering the game in 1956 as head of a syndicate purchasing the Tigers from the estate of the late W. O. Briggs. Fetzer is an alternate member of baseball's executive council and has held a number of important committee assignments, including those concerned with player pensions and bonus restrictions.

Charter president of the Tigers when the American League was organized in 1901 was James D. Burns, also sheriff of Wayne County. In succeeding years, the post has been held by Samuel F. Angus (1902-1903), William H. Yawkey (1904-1906), Frank J. Navin (1907-1935), Walter O. Briggs (1936-1951), Walter O. Briggs, Jr. (1952-1956), Fred A. Knorr (1956), Harvey R. Hansen (1957-1959), William O. DeWitt (1960), and Fetzer since Oct. 11, 1960.

SPRING TRAINING

The Tigers have trained at Henley Field in Lakeland every year except three since 1934. During the war years, 1943-45, the team trained at Evansville, Ind.

Henley Field is located at the northern limits of the city and is easily accessible from the new Tampa Highway, Int. No. 4. Playing conditions at Henley Field are maintained as close as possible to those of Tiger Stadium. The field ranks with the best in major league parks.

A new clubhouse was completed in 1959, and has all modern equipment. There is a special press room and a dark room for photographers. The press box at Henley Field is spacious and modern.

Tigertown, where Detroit farm system players are screened and trained, is less than a mile north of Henley Field.

IN FAST COMPANY

The only teams topping the Tigers in the all-time American League standings are the New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians. The three league leaders have the following won-lost records entering the 1963 campaign: New York 5310-3821, Cleveland 4987-4446, Detroit 4880-4557.

Only two teams in the league hold margins over the Tigers in their head-to-head meetings—the Yankees, 683-619, and the Boston Red Sox, 677-661. In recent years the Tigers had their best seasons against the Yankees in 1956-1959 when the Detroit won 48 of their meetings and New York 40. In the three seasons following, however, the Yankees' margin has been 35-23.

CLEARING THE ROOF

Before 1956, only one home run had been hit over the roof of Tiger Stadium. Since then the feat has been accomplished eight times and the sluggers hit a jackpot in 1962 when Norm Cash, of the Tigers, cleared the right field stands three times and Harmon Killebrew, of the Minnesota Twins, became the first ever to top the farther-distant left field roof.

Ted Williams was the first to hit a ball over the right field pavilion on May 4, 1939—his rookie season with the Boston Red Sox and a year after the stadium was rebuilt along its present lines.

For the next 16 seasons, the towering stands defied all challengers, but between 1956 and 1962 Cash blasted homers over the top four times; Mickey Mantle, of the New York Yankees, three times; and Killebrew once.

Two of Cash's blows came in a period of three days last July 27-29, with his herculean wallop of July 29 sailing across Trumbull Avenue to bang against a lumber yard building, some 560 feet away.

Killebrew's historic homer over the left field roof, which is lower but has a deeper setback, also was estimated at more than 500 feet.

Jim Gentile, of the Baltimore Orioles, lofted a ball over the ridge of the right field roof April 30, 1961 with Paul Foytack on the mound but it struck a light tower and bounced back to the playing field.

THE LONGEST DAY

Baseball's longest game was a Tiger Stadium event of 1962, with the Tigers and New York Yankees battling seven hours June 24 before a 22-inning decision, 9-7, in favor of New York.

More innings have been played four times in major league history but the 7:00 timing set a record. Longest game by innings was a National League 26-inning 1-1 tie between Brooklyn and Boston in 1920, but it required only 3:50. The Tigers of 1945 played a 24-inning 1-1 tie with Philadelphia, also in shorter time than their marathon with the Yankees.

The Tigers employed 22 players, the Yankees 21 in the lengthy battle; 167 times at bat were entered for one American League record and 43 runners were stranded by the two teams for another.

The Yankees scored seven runs in the first two innings off Frank Lary, then were held scoreless 19 innings before Jack Reed, third string outfielder, hit a two-run homer (his first in the majors) off Phil Regan for the victory. The Tigers failed to score in the last 15 innings after tying it in the sixth.

Each team used seven pitchers, with eight innings by Terry Fox his longest stint in Tiger uniform. Jim Bouton, who pitched the last seven for New York, was the winner.

A crowd of 35,638 saw the game start in sunshine at 1:30 and half of the fans were around when it ended under the lights at 8:30. They consumed 32,000 hot dogs, 41,000 servings of beer and 34,500 soft drinks.

The Tigers, incidentally, also were involved in the longest nine-inning game ever played—3:54 at Kansas City in 1961.

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA

The Tigers entered international competition for the first time in 1962, with an exhibition tour of Japan and the Orient which lasted from October 12 until November 22.

The sixth major league club invited to Japan since 1953, the Tigers rang up 12 victories, tied two games and lost four against that country's professionals. Four other victories in Hawaii, Okinawa and Korea made it 16-4-2 for the entire trip.

Bubba Morton set the pace for the Tigers at the plate with a .357 average, but was pushed by Al Kaline and Norm Cash. Kaline hit .343, homered seven times and drove in 16 runs while Cash finished with a .342 average, six homers and 18 RBI.

Ronnie Kline was the most successful pitcher, hurling 20 innings without giving up an earned run. Every pitcher won at least one game; Jim Bunning, Phil Regan and Paul Foytack winning two each.

Frank Lary and Rocky Colavito were excused from making the tour and Billy Bruton was able to play only the last three games because of his broken jaw.

A total of 407,500 fans (average 22,640 per game) saw the Tigers in action in Japan, where the Detroit players were hailed as the finest good will representatives ever sent to the Orient by Organized Baseball.

One result of the friendly relations established during the tour was the Tigers' invitation to the Hanshin Tigers of Osaka to train at Tiger-town during the spring of 1963.

ROCKY REACHING FOR RECORDS

Rocky Colavito enters the 1963 season with a string of 422 straight games to his credit, putting him within reach of two records for consecutive games played: 1)—by an American League outfielder and 2)—by any Tiger player.

Curiously, the figure for both records is the same—Clyde Milan playing 511 straight games in the Washington outfield between Aug. 12, 1910 and Oct. 3, 1912 to set the league mark and Charlie Gehringer notching 511 in a row in the Tiger infield between Sept. 3, 1927 and May 7, 1931 for the Detroit record.

The major league record for outfielders is 694 games, set by Richie Ashburn with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1950-54.

Colavito last missed a game with the Tigers on June 19, 1960, when he was replaced during a slump by Neil Chrisley. The Tigers had an open date the next day, so Colavito's string dates from June 21, 1960. He played 98 straight games the rest of that season; all 163 Tiger games in 1961 to tie a major league record which was broken by Maury Wills in 1962; and all of the Tigers' 161 games in 1962.

WHY THEY ARE TIGERS

Detroit baseball teams have been called Tigers since 1896, before the American League was organized. Philip J. Reid, city editor of a Detroit newspaper, is believed to have bestowed the nickname on the Western League entry of '96 but George Stallings, Detroit manager of the era, took credit for the move resulting in the name when he put his players in black-and-brown striped stockings which reminded many fans of tiger stripes.

BITS ABOUT THEM

AGUIRRE—Drew first start in nearly two years last May 26, beating Yankees in New York, 2-1, then plowing ahead to 16-8 season, only two victories below entire previous career total. League leader with 2.21 ERA, Tigers' best since Hal Newhouser's 1.94 in 1946. Beat Yankees three times in four decisions; won six and lost four by one run; notched two shutouts.

ANDERSON—Husky righthander acquired from Chicago Cubs, Manager Bob Scheffing's protege at Los Angeles in 1956, setting Pacific Coast record with 70 appearances for 12-4 record and 2.65 ERA. Also under Scheffing at Chicago 1957-58-59, going to mound 57 times both '58 and '59. Hoosier-born but attended Michigan and Western Michigan.

BRUTON—Lifted average 14 points to .278 and led Tigers by wide margin in proficiency at advancing baserunners. Hit first grand slam as Tiger and second of career off Dom Zanni at Chicago Aug. 19; posted perfect day of 5-for-5 against same club May 21; had 14-game streak Aug. 24-Sept. 11 and closed season with nine-game streak. Missed eight games in June with pulled leg muscle and last four games of season with broken jaw after outfield collision.

BUNNING—Just missed second 20-game season with 19-10 mark; also saved six in six relief jobs. Seven-game winning streak Aug. 17-Sept. 18 longest for Tigers since 1956. His 258 innings on mound (for six-season total of 1,515) topped by only two in AL in 1962; 184 strikeouts (for 1,139 in six seasons) exceeded by only one. Won seven by one run; lost two same way.

CASH—Fell from .361 batting championship in 1961 to .243 in 1962 but second in league home run race with 39 for two-season total of 80. Homered every 13 times at bat, rate exceeded only by Harmon Killebrew and Mickey Mantle. Some of his blows among longest in history, including three over rightfield roof at Tiger Stadium. Twenty-five homers at home most for any Tiger since Hank Greenberg's 29 in 1946.

COLAVITO—Waited until 101st time at bat May 16 to hit first home run but finished with 37 for five-year total of 200, topping all sluggers in majors same period. Tied for third in homer derby; missed chance for 40 when held to one last two weeks. Third in RBI totals with 112; first in total bases with 309. Hit first grand slam as Tiger off Pedro Ramos of Cleveland June 26, sixth of career. Had three consecutive home runs second time in two years at Cleveland July 5.

FAUL—Stocky righthander from University of Cincinnati given sizable bonus last June. Was 6-2 and 2.09 ERA at Knoxville before purchased by Tigers in September.

FERNANDEZ—Enjoyed best season of career after layoff from winter baseball, with .249 average highest since 1957 and 20 home runs in season after 19 total in five previous campaigns. First Tiger shortstop ever to hit 20. Had 13-game streak and hit in 30 of last 38 games.

FOX—Out of action until May 30 with sore elbow followed by three weeks at Denver getting in shape, then appeared in 44 games to save 15 and win three with only one loss. Led all American League pitchers of 30 innings or more for second straight year with 1.71 ERA. Two-year total with Tigers: 11 won, 23 saved and 1.57 ERA.

FOYTACK—Got first start May 6, then soared to 7-1 record by July 8, including two victories over New York and two over Chicago. Lost next two starts when Tigers scored total of one run in two games and finished season 10-7.

FREEHAN—University of Michigan bonus boy of 1960 just about ready for Big Time. Seasoned at Duluth and Knoxville in 1961, young catcher hit .283 at Denver in 1962.

GALLAGHER—Young lefthander won spot on Tiger roster at opening of season year ago but returned to minors end of May after losing four straight. Came along strong at Denver with 9-5 record in 22 games. Fanned 108 in 131 innings and walked only 41.

GOLDY—Early spring training batting sensation year ago while still on minor league roster but split season between Denver and Detroit, hitting .249 in 66 American Association games, .229 in 20 American League contests.

BITS ABOUT THEM

HERZOG—Yankee farm product but never played with New York; seven seasons with Washington, Kansas City and Baltimore. Orioles' top hitter vs. Tigers in 1962 with .324 average.

HUMPHREYS—In Tiger farm system since 1958, called up from Denver last September with 9-7 record, 2.80 ERA in 57 games, all relief. Only decision in four Tiger relief jobs was 10th-inning loss to Yankees on Yogi Berra homer.

KALINE—Enjoying finest start of career when right collarbone broken May 26 in sensational dive for game-ending catch to preserve 2-1 victory over Yankees in New York. Hitting .345 with 38 RBI and 13 home runs in 35 games to lead league at time, missed 57 games before seeing action again July 23, out of four more games later with stiff back. Finish at .304 good enough for sixth in league except 50 short of required 502 plate appearances. Rapped 29 home runs for high total of career (27 three times previously), including some real tape-measure blows. Drove in 94 runs, figure he hasn't topped since 1956 but equalled in 1959. Picked for Sporting News American League All-Star team; on league All-Star fielding team fifth time.

KLINE—Relieved 32 times for 3-3 record, lost three tough decisions in only four starts—2-0 to Yankees on Bill Stafford's two-hitter, 2-0 to White Sox on Ray Herbert's three-hitter, 5-2 to Senators on Claude Osteen's eight-hitter.

KOPLITZ—Missed spring training year ago because of military service and showed effects although 3-0 with Tigers after release and brief tuneup at Denver. Now 5-0 in American League.

LARY—Limited in service and on disabled list July 31-Sept. 1 because of tendon-muscle troubles in pitching arm but winter workouts encouraging for comeback after 2-6 finish in only 17 games. Shaky spring year ago but serious trouble started April 13 in Tiger Stadium opener, coldest since 1936. Pulled leg muscle running out three-bagger and retired in seventh inning. Reported ache in shoulder two weeks later and forced to leave game after two innings. Beat Yankees, 5-3, in opener but only other victory was over Washington June 19.

McAULIFFE—Missed most of spring training and first week of season year ago because of military duties but won regular job at second base, with .263 average, 12 home runs and 25 other extra-base blows. Sixteen games at shortstop, 49 at third base, 70 at second.

MOSSI—Still Tigers' No. 1 tough luck pitcher with six one-run losses in 11-13 record. Was 6-4 going into June but lost four before winning again June 30 as Tigers scored only two runs during Mossi's 37 innings on mound in six starts.

PHILLIPS—Returning to Tigers from Cleveland after seven-year absence in which reputation established as one of top third baseman in American League. Originally signed by Tigers out of Mississippi Southern in 1948. Only season at Tiger Stadium played 95 games in 1955, traded to White Sox for Virgil Trucks that winter, then to Indians 1960. Topped only by Baltimore's Brooks Robinson in 1962 third base fielding, handling 428 chances in 145 games with only 10 errors.

REGAN—Went to bullpen after four-game losing streak last June but emerged in August to become one of Tigers' strongest starters in final weeks. Was 6-1 with 2.84 ERA in 76 innings after August 8.

TRIANDOS—Eight-year veteran of American League obtained from Baltimore, but originally property of Yankees and traded to Orioles in 17-man swap of 1954. Lifetime average of .254 and 137 home runs in seven seasons before 1962, slumped to .159 and six homers last season. Shares American League record for homers by catcher (30 in 1958), twice led league in assists by catcher.

WERTZ—In 58 pinch hitting appearances had .321 average (17-for-53); five straight pinch hits April 25-May 2 tied American League record; three pinch hit homers off Ralph Terry, Hoyt Wilhelm, Dick Donovan.

WOOD—Slumped last year after fine debut at second base previous season. Started fast in 1962, hitting .326 after two weeks; launched 10-game hitting streak May 31 but slipped gradually and lost second base job in late July when down to .228.

SCHEFFING'S RECORD

Bob Scheffing's two-year record of 186 victories and 137 defeats as manager of the Tigers is the best percentage (.576) for the club in more than a decade—and was achieved against a background of phenomenal misfortune in the way of injuries to key players.

Lifting the team from sixth place to second in 1961 with a record of 101-61 in his first season at the helm, Scheffing was acclaimed "Manager of the Year" in the American League and joined two former Tiger managers now in the Hall of Fame as the only Detroit pilots with 100 victories in a season to their credit. They were Hughie Jennings in 1915 and Mickey Cochrane in 1934.

The Tigers' .623 percentage that year has been topped only three times, twice by Jennings and once by Cochrane.

Scheffing's success with the lightly-regarded Tigers of 1961 was remarkable because of injuries to players like Hank Aguirre, Terry Fox, Steve Boros and Dick Brown during the exciting season.

Last year, the Tigers were rated strong pennant contenders but finished fourth with a mark of 85-76, with injuries an even more serious handicap. Frank Lary was out of action virtually all season because of a sore pitching arm and Al Kaline missed 61 games after breaking his collarbone in a game at New York May 26. Fox, Billy Bruton and Norm Cash also were on the shelf for varying periods.

AGUIRRE AT BAT

Hank Aguirre prospered on the mound in 1962 (16-8) but "faded" at the plate (.027) and goes into the 1963 campaign with a lifetime batting average of .052.

The lanky southpaw's two hits in 75 appearances last year knocked 50 points off his lifetime mark, in addition to which he fanned 46 times. Hank was 0-for-16 when he got his first hit of the season off Hal Reniff, of New York, June 22; 0-for-34 when he notched No. 2 against Jim Grant, of Cleveland, August 23; and closed the season with an 0-for-23 string which he takes into 1963 with his lifetime of 8-for-153.
